TRIP TO RALEIGH.

We left here on Wednesday evening last, on the 5:30 train on the C. C. Railroad with no sleeper, had to travel all night, and from Lumberton to Raleigh, we just had to occupy about 3} inches perpendicular. Not less that 90 people were in a car that is only intended, on extraordinarly occasions to carry 50 persons. We finally arrived at Raleigh at 9 a. m., on Thursday morning, tired, dusty and mad, (fighting mad in fact), but Frank Clark was at least 100 miles away, so we had to smother our wrath. The very idea of a man having to set up going from Wilmington to Raleigh, travelling all night, is an outrage.

We stopped at the Yarborough and the consequence was that in our hurry to leave we got the wrong man's is laid up to rest. But it is paying the clothes on; some fellow who stands government more now than it has for 5 feet 5 inches, while we stand 6 feet at a long time. There will be no more least. So our friends can very well see our perdicument when we went to crew have all been discharged. But dress the next morning, and all this owing to old Dr. B'ackwell's capacity for stowing away men in the same

While at Raleigh we met several propos of note and saw a few others. We saw "Hold Robeson and Save the Sale" Cox, who by the way is now a Member of Congress; we saw John W. all the white cloth and red flannel that met Dr. J. J. Maj. McRae was looking well for a man who had just been beat by a hun dred and eighteen thousand majority. He was the Chief Mogul in the Probibition movement, and the only man who made a bonafide Prohibition speech during the last campaign. But the Major is a very plucky little man, and when a man advocates a cause from pure motives, as the Major always does, he don't mind being beat so much on as some others, but we don't believe it was on account of his tenure, for Ike is one of the best holder's in the state. Dr. Mett was just boiling over with enthusiasm. He says the Republican party will carry the state next time by 20,000 majority; and Tom Cooper offer to bet ten galtons of his best on it; and Capt. As to the Raleigh Fair, the agricultural part of it was a grand faiture, and if prother Polk can't do better, we would advise him to turn his attention is another direction. The races were Poor, the side shows were mean and. common, and we left in disgust at the whole exhibition.

We left Raleigh on the 8 o'clock train and arrived here at 10 o'clock Friday morning, and congratulated earself on the fact that we were once again in the land of civilization.

NARROW GUAGE RAILROAD. - There s now some talk of a narrow guage railroad from Point Caswell to Clinton, a distance of forty miles, running through a fertile but undeveloped country. The road will cross Black River about two miles below Black Sampson county. These are the only water courses of any importance and the bridging will be very tight. There are high bluffs on Black River and the Cobarie is a shallow stream. The road, it is estimated, will coat about $130,-

000 and equipped about $150,000, or $3,250 per mile for construction. We understand that the people of Sampson county will subscribe about $50,000 to the enterprise, and the projector, Capt. R. P. Paddison, is in hopes of raising liberal subscriptions in this city. If the road is built the freight of the road will be brought to this city by steamer from Point Caswell. The route is a feasible one, and we are encouraged in the belief that at not a very remote period the Point Caswell & Clinton Narrow Guage Read will be in full

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

SUNDAY MORNING, OCT. 16, 1881. We have not seen a word of disap probation in any of the papers regarding an act of our last Democratic legislature, practically abolishing all the powers and duties of the office of Coroner throughout the state.

Have you, dear reader, considered that if, on some dark morning, you should be found in your sanctum, or on the street cold in death from wounds inflicted by an assassin and murderer, that there is now no officer of the great state of North Carolina who is authoramination of the case and ascertain, if possib'e, the name of your murderer, that he might be punished? Such is indeed the lamentable fact, thanks to the stupidity, ignorance and avarice of our self-sainted Bourbon Democracy.

The same law that applies to you, applies to every man, woman and child, be he Demscrat or Republican, within the borders of North Carolina. It seems to me that it must be anything but a consoling reflection to the Democratic voters of the state, whose representatives in the legislature enacted this infamous and barbarous law in the midst of a christian civilization, and in the enlightened nineteeth century, that such voters may perish by assassination, by murder, by violence, or by accident in flood or field, and that their bodies may lie unburied and uncared for and consumed by birds of prey and beasts and fishes, and that his bones may lay and whiten in the summers' suns:

Our ancestors, centusies ago, in old England, found it necessary and essential to society to create an officer whose duty it was in all cases of sudden deaths to at once proceed to the place, summons a jury and hold an inquest over the remains, summoning and examining all persons who might know any thing concerning the cause of death .-And if any person was found culpable he should be held for trial. This old English law has, I believe, been adopted by all the different states of our rive here to-morrow. Their testimony American Union, as a matter of prime will touch simply the question of inbeing of society. It has remained for dence will be in the shape of deposiour Bourbon Democracy to practi- tions on the part of persons who have cally abolish the office of coroner in known Guiteau for years past. North Carolina. They enacted a law in March 1881, that no coroner should hold an inquest unless some person place in his hands an affidavit "that deceased probably came to his death person." Some person must first in- his request, and could not say who terest himself sufficient in the case to prisoner would appear for trial. go before a justice or other officer, and make affidavit in due form of law and present it to the coroner, before he may dead body has been found, as he can do no more than any other individual, unless the affidavit shall have been made.

Coroner's inquests are now to all intents and purposes a thing of the past in North Carolina alone; and inquests have almost altogether ceased to be held.

Justices and Judges may examine parties charged with crimes, on affidavit being made, or upon their own personal knowledge; so the coroner now does not differ from them in that particular, except that he has no power to take the affidayit required to be made to permit him to act, which the judge or justice may do.

There is no telling what evils to society may result from the destruction of the powers and duties of coroners. Already, as the writer is informed, the bodies of two unfortunate persons, who were found in the river below our city have drifted away with the tide, and been consumed by buzzards and fishes, and it is not now known whether they were white or black, or if they came to their death by drowning or by foul means, or even what their names were. I understand that the coroner was notified in both cases, but could do nothing in the premises, as no person gave him the necessary affidavit.

Now, such disgusting cases will necessarily occur, and it will become a matter of prime necessity that the people elect men to the next legislature of North Carolina, who may have sufficient common sense to remedy this and other laws passed through ignorance.

In Ohio Mr. Bookwalter rolled in the mud all for naught. Foster has beaten him out of sight. Now if the New York Republicans would do as well let them fight Democrats only.

after the President's death, Guicau decided that he would dictate the nanagement of his own defense. He intended to have counsel, but his counsel was to manage the care as directed.

This was owing to his inordinate vanity. Latterly, however, he is represented as being in a more humble mood ized to come forward and make an ex- ute list of places where witnesses may exceedingly two or three days, and before the last day of November, he should forfeit his vicious and worthless life at the end of a rope.

ASSASSIN GUITEAU.

When He Will Appear For Trial-A

Letter From General Builer. It is quite probable that Guiteau will appear for trial before the week expires. He is very timid as the day draws near, and is apprehensive lest he may be dealt with violently by a mob. He has instructed his attorney, George Scoville, to take steps warning all avengers to keep their bands off, as the iail officials were determined to protect him at all hazards, and, in fact, he says the Government of the United States is bound to protect him. Garfield's Body in a New Coffin. CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 5th .- Late this evening a closed carriage passed subsequently the errand of the visitors was ascertained. The carriage contained Dr. Boynton, Internai Revenue Collector W. S. Streaton, and Mayor Herrick, fbesides two undertakers. They brought with them an elegant bronze coffin sent here secretly by the Masonic Burial Case Company of New York City. The coffin in which the body reposed was soon opened, dis-closing the unrecognizable features of the dead President. The general conon of the body; was found to about the same as when it was last ex-posed to view in Washington. Within an hour the body had been transferred to the new coffin, which is an imperish able one, and. locking the vault, th party drove secretly back to the city. For some reason the fact of the contemplated change was kept from the press. Mrs. Garfield came to this city from Mentor yesterday and inspected

Ever since the emancipation of the colored race in this country, social i quality has been the great bu the southern whites. Latterly, however, he is representation, they hastened to cry out that the edge and he manifests a willingness to allow his brother-in-law. Mr. Scorille, to manage his case. Of course there can be but one plea—that of insanity—and that is a false one. He has already proven his sanity, by the strongest evinement. His counsel has doubtless informed him that he must prove him one. His counsel has doubtless informed him that he must prove him and Guitesu furnished him with a minute list of places where witnesses may be sought for as to his acts and his acts and his and some complish their purpose, and the sylidence. Judge Scoville visited him and Guitesu furnished him with a minute list of places where witnesses may be sought for as to his acts and race were craving social equality. Be why is it that they always have a lot true that a number of our race selt on Escon for three dollars after he tial proof, for business sagacity never thus, and really wished to mingle with (MscDonald) had signed the pay-roll, seeks a poor medium. They were too refined in feeling to seek the company of those who did not feel perfectand consequently they have been inclined to repel the advances of white persons willing to meet them socially as equals. We do not then feel that we treat the truth with any disrespect when we affirm that a desirelfor social equality has existed more in the imaginations of designing leaders than elsewhere, and that there never has been any extended desire on the part of persons of color to force themselves on others more fair. But their is an equality most earnestly desired by members of our race, an equality which the law itself gives us, and equality

Thus it seems to us, but experience has taught us that if we demanded that should be seeking something more easily granted. We are conscious of the righteousness of our demand, and would that all men admit it. We do not ask that exceptional treatment be given us. We simply the righteousness of our demand, and would that all men admit it. We do not ask that exceptional treatment be given us. We simply the righteousness of our demand, and would be a scertained yet. Assistantthe earth should cease to move we not ask that exceptional treatment be given us. We simply wish that in dealing with persons of our race the guardians of the law be blind to the existence of color. We are perfectly willing that in private family circles the color line shall be drawn, but when you have crossed your home threshold, and entered the busy current of daily business events meet us as man to man. That there has always been a tendency in judicial officers to be swayed by color prejudice no reasonable man will the next two weeks by reporting the inin judicial officers to be swayed by color prejudice no reasonable man will deny. Hundreds of men have gone from this city to people the penitentiary and chain gangs, who would be here now honored and respected citizens were it not for the fact that they were colored. We might go on to give and cite circumstances of trials of colored men convicted and sentenced, who, we do not believe would ever have been this evening a closed carriage passed do not deny that innocent white men as well as colored have been convicted and punished, but the preponderance has been on the colored aide, and we fail to find a satisfactory solution other late President Garfield. with taining circles any more than with whites to mix in ours; we confess to a prejudice against the whites when it comes to that, but in the race of life whether in business or in the courts, we demand that we be given, or be allowed to take an equal chance along with the rest. There is no place where prejudice has done us such fearful injury, as in the courts, and no place where its elimination would benefit us more. Tis useless to argue that this prejudice is the result of pre-existing eircumstances and consequently inevi-table. All men have but to learn well the teachings of the golden rule and the consummation desired is reached. That is not an impossibility. Judges and Magistrates can deal justly with colored men more easily than other-wise. They are sworn to a fair and tions of their office, and to otherwise administer is perjury pure and simple. There is no evading that. The officer who allows the color of a man's skin to inflance him of the color of a man's skin to undeniably perjured. To be impartial then seems far more easy than to be otherwise. We write this matter, deeply conscious of past injustice, earnestly solicitous for a change, calmiy and im-

The Uhio Outlook. Letters received from Governor Foster and from Hon. William Lawrence, First Comptroller of the Treasury, who is stumping the state, indicate that the canvass in Ohio has become quite earnest and lively within the past ten days. For some weeks prior to that the Republicans were unaccountably apa-thetic, and there was strious concern felt among the members of the State Executive Committee less the full vote of the Republican party could not be brought out to-day. Now, however the committee are much encouraged, and are confident that the Republicans will earry the state by a respectable majority. This being "off year" in Ohio, a very heavy vote is not expected. LATER-The whole Republican ticket

Morgan, of Alabama, considers "Some Dangerous Questions," namely, certain emergencies arising in the administration of the United States government, for which adequate provision is not made in the Constitution or the laws. Among these questions, that of the succession of the Presidency in case of the inability of the elected incumbent, holds a conspicuous place, and is treated by the writer with much learning and in the most judicial temper. Professor George P. Fisher, of Yale College, contributes a profound study of "The Elements of Puritanism." pointing out wherein Puritanism was transient in its influence, and wherein permanent. A stronger vindication of Peritanism perhaps never was written. Senator George F. Edmunds, of Vermont, defines the relations which exist between "The state and the Nation," replying to an article by the Hon. David Dudley Field that sppeared in the May number. D. C. Gilman, President of John Hopkins University, writes of "The Idea of the University," drawing the line of distinction between the college and the university, and showing how the latter institution is the indispensable organ of a generous, liberal culture. A timely historical paper is that of Mr. Sydney Howard Gay, "Why Cornwallis was at Yorktown." Under the title. "Shall Two States Rule the Union?" the Hon, Thomas A. Hendricks discuses the perennial tariff question which he insists is a subject not for politicians, but for economists, to be settled, not in the councils of politicians, but by a commission of manu Charnay, in the ninth of his valuable archæological papers, sets forth the he "Ruined Cities of Central America." gress where her prestige and her re-sources will renew and surpass her for-mer greatness and glory! A Virginia Statesman's Pall. It is clearly demonstrated in the case of ex-Congressman Goode, of Virginia how hard the Bourbon Democrat meets his political death, Goode served three terms in Congress, two of which he held the legal seat of Republicans. He has been a beggar for the United States Senate for the past ten years, meeting defeat every time. He has been a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination every time there was a Governor to elect in the state. He was an aspirant at the late Richmond convention against Daniel, and so sure was he of gaining the covered nomina-tion that he boasted on the streets of Washington that he would not give his chances for the nomination before the chances for the nomination before the convention for any man's in the state. He was unsuccessful again for promotion. He was not a success as a member of Congress, which it did not take Sum Randall long to discover, so he placed him at the head of a small committee, where he could not do any damage to the government or his party. He now turns up as a candidate for the state legislature, hoping to be elected, and thereby give him an opportunity to place himself in a square position for the United States Senata. In this he will probably meet with disappointment, as the legislature will be under the control of the Readjusters and Republicans. This is the last struggle for the ex-member of the lower House. There is one thing left for him now. He can emigrate to Washington and join the third house and become a first-class lobbyist.

There are nearly five hundred of these nominations, and it is thought at the Postoffice Department that there will te no objection to them, as they are mostly intended to confirm appointments already made by President Garfield since the last session of Congress, or fill offices which have become Presidential. WILMINGTON, N. C. SUNDAY MORNING, OCT. 16, 1881

DEATH OF REV. MR. BOSHAMER .-We regret to learn of the death, in Raleigh, early last Thursday morning, of Rev. A. A. Boshamer, Pastor of Edenton Street M. E. Church, in that city, and a gentleman well-known and greatly beloved here, where he served Fifth Street M. E. Church very acceptably from 1870 to 1872. Mr. B. was was 35 years of age, and died from the effects of typhoid fever, with which disease he had been till for sometime past.

THE DEADLY MOCK-ORANGE.-A resident in the southeastern section of the city a few days ago cut down a number of mock-orange trees in his yard which were thrown into the street and afterwards hauled to the suburbs. There a number of cattle got hold of them and two fine cows are known to have died from eating the leaves. We suggest to the city authorities that all such poisonous matter should be destroyed by fire rather than be thrown where cattle may get poisoned by it.

A GREAT PREMIUM LIST .- The New York Weckly Express, established in 1835, is not only the oldest and cheapest but best of the New York Weekly Family Newspapers. It is now making a great and successful effort to reach a larger and more general circulation than any weekly newspaper in the United States, and to this end is offered an at- Southern mails for all tractive list of substantial and valuable premiums to single and club subscribern. The long established reputation and responsibility of the publishers, who not only publish the Weekly Express, but the New York Daily Evening Express is a sufficient guarantee of the character of the premiums offered and the good faith that will govern their distribution. Besides the many other attractions of the Weekly Express it publishes regularly, by authority, the Brookly Tabernacle sermons of the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D.D .-The subscription price, One Dollar a year places it within the reach of all. The office of the New York Weekly Express is 23 Park Row, New York.

THE CRIMINAL COURT .- The October term of the Criminal Court came to a close on last Monday evening. The following are the convictions and the sentences passed : Samuel Carver, larceny, $25 and John Waddell, larceny, $25 and John Curlew, carrying a cor cealed weapon, discharged on condition of leaving the city. Wm. Hansley, larency, 5 years in Penitentiary. Richard Reid, larceny, 5 years in Penitentiary. John Williams, larceny, one penny and costs.

Willey Phillips, larceny, 2 years in Penitentiary. Wm. Prinnney, assault and battery, 12 months in County House of Correc-Lou Huggins, nuisance, 3 months in House of Correction.

Sam Larkins, assault and battery, 3 months in House of Correction. Charles Herring, assault with intent to commit raps, 10 years in Peniten-David Littleton, slander of women, $25 and cost. Isaiah Easton, assault and battery, 30 days in House of Correction.

Fred Hill, larceny, $5 and cost. There were several cases of assault and battery and one of an affray in which the defendants were fined one penny and costs. Settling the War.

In the winter of 1864, Pony Mountain, in the Shenandoah Valley, was full of game, and Federals and Contederates used to shoot equirrels and trap rabbits when off picket duty, Care was taken to avoid each other, but many collisions occurred, and more than one poor fellow's bones are bleaching under the dark pines to-day. One day a member of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry encounted a "Johnny" face to face as they both turned a thicket. Both had guns on their shoulders, and both were too suprised to speak for some time. Then the Confederate yelled out:

"Say, you Yank, what are you down here for !" "To put down the rebellion."

"You can't do it, no how."
"Bet you ten dollars we can."
"Look here," said the reb, as he ame closer and put down his gun to dulge in gestures, "I'll play ye a ame of euchre to see which aide is gone to whip."

DEMOCRATS AND BONDS.

The Democrats have had so much to say about the Republicans stealing bonds that were issued by the Republican Convention and Legislature of 1868 and 1869, that we publish below the names of the DEMOCRATS and Republicans who received and used said bonds. This will be kept standing for
